The following project is the result of a joint work of many European schools interested in raising the awareness of ecological problems among the project participants and recipients at a local, national and international level by means of varied and creative teaching/learning approaches. The broad context of the partnership assumes the promotion of the European citizenship by exploring values common to all European people, regarding our concern for the natural environment and the closely linked issue of our health condition.

The primary objective is to make the participants more sensitive to the significance of climatic changes on the planet, the necessity of protecting the natural environment and the need of leading healthy lifestyles.

The goals will be achieved through working on two major themes, one directed at increasing the participants' knowledge of ecology and healthy life, and the other aimed to develop practical skills of ecological behaviour.

As well as working jointly on some global problems, each school will focus on certain issues of local importance, related to the characteristics of its country and/or region. Providing the active involvement of the whole schools' communities (including pupils with special needs, representatives of ethnic groups and other minority groups) is our priority. Emphasis will be placed on developing competences of foreign language communication and the use of ICT.

The ultimate end-product will be creating a multilingual website presenting the project achievements in all partner schools, possessing appropriate educational values and serving as a major source of project dissemination.
